Launch of River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme

On October 24 the River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme was launched in Tymon Park by Mayor of South Dublin County Council Cllr Mark Ward and Minister of State for the Office of Public Works (OPW) Kevin 'Boxer' Moran TD.

A combined initiative of South Dublin County Council, Dublin City Council and the OPW, the scheme aims to address both the extensive flooding caused by the Poddle in the past which has cost life and extensive damages to properties along its route and to future threats from climate change. When completed, the scheme will provide protection to over 800 properties in the South Dublin and Dublin City areas. Following the appointment of Nicholas

O'Dwyer Ltd. in March 2018 as consultants for the scheme, work is currently progressing on both the Preliminary Design and Environmental Studies Reports with a Part 10 planning application to be made to An Bord Pleanála in early 2019.

Construction works on the scheme are scheduled to commence in late 2019/ early 2020 at a cost of €7million. Up to date information on the scheme can be found through the scheme's website www.poddlefas.ie

Light it up

Tallaght

UNWRAPPED marks the beginning of celebrating the winter festive season across South Dublin County. This year's theme is 'Return to Tír na nÓg', a reminder of the part that traditional stories and customs play in celebrations around the world. All are welcome to join Mayor Mark Ward as he lights up our beautiful tree! The afternoon will end with musical entertainment.

Remember to wrap up as both Unwrapped and the tree lighting take place outdoors.

Clondalkin

The official lighting of the Christmas tree at Civic Offices, Clondalkin will take place on Wednesday 5th December at 5pm, with refreshments served afterwards at the Round Tower Visitor Centre, Tower Road.

MIXED REACTION TO GRANGE CASTLE RE-ZONING

Re-zoning of Grange Castle land criticised

MARK O'BRIEN

THERE has been mixed reaction to the decision of South Dublin County Council to re-zone land near Grange Castle.

At a special meeting of the council on Monday, May 21, elected members agreed to re-zone approximately 500 acres of council owned land from agricultural use to industrial use.

The move was welcomed by Cllr Francis Timmons (Ind), who said it would bring much needed employment to the area.

He said: "The rezoning of Lands at Grange Castle West has the potential to bring thousands of jobs to our area. We need employment for the thousands of new houses that are being built in Adamstown and Clonburris and for all the people that have to travel outside of SDCC to work."

Cllr Timmons added

that there are also additional houses being built in Newcastle and Rathcoole.

"It would be reckless and bad planning to build so many houses and not to provide for industry, so I am glad that the majority have voted for the rezoning the 193 hectares of land from zoning objective RU (Rural and Agriculture) to objective EE (Enterprise and Employment)," he said.

People Before Profit-Solidarity councillors had proposed to re-zone some of the lands near Peamount Hospital for housing.

Clondalkin Cllr Madeleine Johansson said she was disappointed with the outcome. "It is very disappointing that the proposal by management to re-zone all the lands for industrial use was passed by a majority of councillors," she said.

"There was no facility for us to put forward a counter-proposal for consideration of councillors and there was no engagement from management to discuss plans for large scale housing construction in the area.

"The housing crisis is continuing to worsen while there is no serious plan by the Government to solve this crisis. Unfortunately, South Dublin County Council management are not prioritising the construction of social housing."

Nutgrove firm to design Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme

Nicholas O'Dwyer Ltd has been appointed by South Dublin County Council to lead the design of the landmark Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme.

This project is an adaptation action by South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council in response to future threats posed by climate change. The scheme is estimated to cost in the region of €7 million. This project is funded by the Office of Public Works.

The Poddle River has caused extensive flooding in the region in the past, costing life and causing damage to resources and businesses. The Alleviation Scheme aims to address this and provide added protection to property along the river.

Cllr Pamela Kearns, Chair of the Environment Public Realm and Climate Change Strategic Policy Committee of South Dublin County Council, said, "This is a welcome development as the work on the Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme is hugely important to the residents in the area."

Kids in DEIS schools suffering

FIANNA Fail TD John Curran claims schools in Dublin Mid-West are running at significant deficits, and children from areas of economic disadvantage are suffering.

Speaking in Dáil, Deputy Curran said: "I recently visited two DEIS schools in my local area that have just over 200 pupils each and therefore receive annual capitation fees of approximately €35,000.

"This is the only funding available for each school's operational budget, from which the cost of lighting, heating, insurance and cleaning, has to be deducted.

"Speaking with two principals on this issue, they informed me that €20,000 of this €35k budget can go on cleaning, while a further €20k on electricity and insurance costs.

"As both of these schools are located in areas of economic disadvantage, they cannot raise funds to meet the significant deficits at which they are running."

Tesco Liffey Valley opened

TESCO Extra opened to much fan-fair this week at the retail centre in Liffey Valley. The €30m store is the largest in Ireland and has created 75 local jobs.

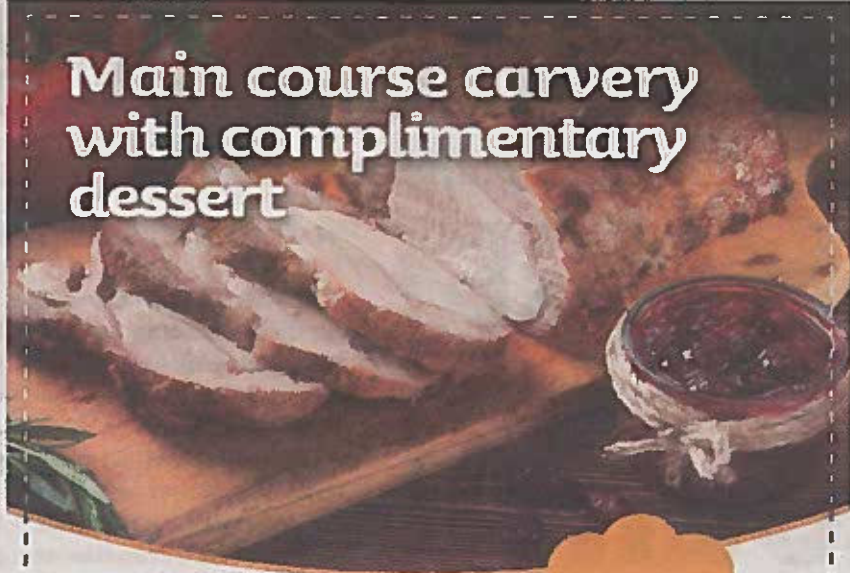

Cllr. Emer Higgins attended the official opening alongside RTE's Lucy Kennedy.

Speaking at the opening Cllr. Emer Higgins said: "I'm so impressed by the new Tesco – it's absolutely huge and offers great parking, a massive fresh fruit and veg section, the largest clothing selection of any Tesco and even a Costa Coffee shop.

"It's fantastic to see such investment locally. The Store Manager, Robbie Kelly, told me that about 80% of the 175 jobs created were filled by people in the local area.

"Creating local jobs is something I'm really passionate about and it's fantastic to see Tesco so committed to ensuring that the store plays a positive role in the local community."

Work starts on design of €7m Poddle Flood Scheme

NICHOLAS O'Dwyer Ltd have been appointed by South Dublin County Council to lead the design of the landmark Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme.

This project is an adaptation action by South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council in response to future threats posed by climate change. The scheme is estimated to cost in the region of €7 million. This project is funded by the Office of Public Works.

The Poddle River has caused extensive flooding in the region in the past, costing life and causing damage to resources and businesses. The Poddle River Flood Alleviation Scheme aims to address this and provide added protection to property along the river.

On March 28, Nicholas O'Dwyer Ltd. were appointed as design consultants for the Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme. When completed, this scheme will provide protection to in excess of 800 properties along the Poddle River in the South Dublin County and Dublin City Council areas.

Work is now progressing on both the preliminary design stage and with environmental studies. A Part 10 planning application will be submitted to An Bord Pleanála following a public consultation process. The OPW, South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council are working together on this project with construction work expected to start in late 2019 or early 2020.

Cllr Pamela Kearns Chair of the Environment Public Realm and Climate Change Strategic Policy Committee of South Dublin County Council said, "This is a welcome development as the work on the Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme is hugely important to the residents in the area".

Cllr Paddy McCarten, Chair of the South East Area in Dublin City Council said, "DCC and OPW have put in place extensive flood alleviation measures on the Dodder and I welcome their further cooperation on the Poddle. This will give significant protection to homeowners in the city and county for decades to come."

Why were my neighbours and I (370+ on my street) not consulted about these plans before SDCC/OPW plans draw to a close? You had years to let us know. Why now? 3 days notice for your info day, when we, taxpayers will be at work. Why the fear about including us? Far too late.

As part of the proposed River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme, the Ground Investigation contract for the scheme will commence on the 17th October in various locations along the River Poddle from Tynon Park to St Martins Drive in Kimmage. Works will commence in Tynon Park with all works expected to take 3-4 weeks.

Ground Investigation consists of taking soil samples and determining the location of underground services by the use of Boreholes, Trial Pits and Silt Trenches. As most of the works will be carried out in public parks, grass verge, footpaths and roads, pedestrian and traffic management will be put in place to accommodate the works where required so we ask all park, road and footpath users to follow all relevant site signage. We thank you in advance for your patience while the works are on-going and for any disruption that may be caused

Work Location details from 17/10 up to and including 23/10 can be found on <http://www.poddle.ie/news/> Please email info@poddle.ie if you have any enquiries

Archived item. This item is published here for historical reasons. The information below may be out of date.

Nicholas O'Dwyer Ltd have been appointed by South Dublin County Council to lead the design of the landmark Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme.

This project is an adaptation action by South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council in response to future threats posed by climate change. The scheme is estimated to cost in the region of €7 million. This project is funded by the Office of Public Works.

The Poddle River has caused extensive flooding in the region in the past, costing life and causing damage to resources and businesses. The Poddle River Flood Alleviation Scheme aims to address this and provide added protection to property along the river.

On the 28th March, Nicholas O'Dwyer Ltd. were appointed as design consultants for the Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme. When completed, this scheme will provide protection to in excess of 800 properties along the Poddle River in the South Dublin County and Dublin City Council areas.

Work is now progressing on both the preliminary design stage and with environmental studies. A Part 10 planning application will be submitted to An Bord Pleanála following a public consultation process. The OPW, South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council are working together on this project with construction work expected to start in late 2019 or early 2020.

Cllr Pamela Kearns Chair of the Environment Public Realm and Climate Change Strategic Policy Committee of South Dublin County Council said, "This is a welcome development as the work on the Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme is hugely important to the residents in the area."

Cllr Paddy McCarten, Chair of the South East Area in Dublin City Council said,

"DCC and OPW have put in place extensive flood alleviation measures on the Dodder and I welcome their further cooperation on the Poddle. This will give significant protection to homeowners in the city and county for decades to come."

South Dublin County is one of four local authority areas in the Dublin region.

South Dublin County Council provides and funds a broad range of services including housing, roads, walking and cycling routes, parks and playgrounds, libraries, sports facilities, litter control, arts centres, enterprise units, fire services, community infrastructure and financial supports. It also serves as a platform for local democracy with 40 councillors spread across six electoral areas.

Bounded by the River Liffey to the North and the Dublin Mountains to the South, the County lies 16 kilometres south west of Dublin city centre and has an administrative footprint of 223sq. kilometres. The County has nine main villages Clondalkin, Lucan, Palmerstown, Rathfarnham, Tallaght, Templeogue, Saggart, Rathcoole and Newcastle and is bounded by adjoining counties of Archived item. This item is published here for historical reasons. The information below may be out of date.

The Office of Public Works (OPW) has produced an individual Flood Risk Management Plan (Flood Plan) for each of the 29 river basins that serve the 300 communities assessed as being potentially at significant flood risk. The preparation of these flood plans is a central part of the implementation of government policy on flood risk management and meets Ireland's obligations under the 2007 EU 'Floods' Directive.

The Flood Risk Management Plans were finalised and approved by the Minister for Public Expenditure and Reform on 16th April 2018. This was subsequently reported to EU Commission and the various plans were launched 3rd May 2018.

The draft Liffey and Dublin Bay Flood Risk Management Plan was presented to South Dublin County Council on Monday 17th October 2016 and went to Public Consultation in Tallaght and Lucan Libraries on the 1st and 2nd of November 2016.

The Catchment-based Flood Risk Assessment and Management Programme (CFRAM) have identified flood relief schemes to provide protection to approximately 18,000 properties. Pilot CFRAM Projects or accelerated schemes are underway, including the Poddle, Camac and Whitechurch Schemes, and these will protect approximately 6,500 properties nationally.

There are a further 118 new schemes proposed in these plans providing protection to approximately 11,500 properties nationally, one of these being in the South Dublin area on the Liffey between Lucan and Chapelizod. Further public consultation at the detailed design and planning stage will be held at a future date.

Kevin 'Boxer' Moran, TD, Minister of State at the Office of Public Works and Flood Relief (OPW) today launched the website for the River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme. The website will offer up-to-date information and news on the combined River Poddle initiative of the OPW, South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council.

The River Poddle has caused extensive flooding in the region in the past, costing life and causing damage to resources and businesses. The River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme aims to address this and provide added protection to property along the river.

On the 28th March 2018, Nicholas O'Dwyer Ltd. were appointed as design consultants for the River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme. When completed, this scheme will provide protection to in excess of 800 properties along the River Poddle in the South Dublin County and Dublin City Council areas.

This project is an adaptation action by South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council in response to future threats posed by climate change. The scheme is estimated to cost in the region of €7 million and is funded by the Office of Public Works.

Work is currently progressing on both the preliminary design stage and with environmental studies. The OPW, South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council are working together on this project with construction work expected to start in late 2019 or early 2020.

Speaking at today's launch, Minister Moran said, "Flood events around the country have highlighted the destruction and loss that flooding can cause to people and their property. Since my appointment as Minister of State at the Office of Public Works and Flood Relief last year, I, along with the staff in the OPW and Local Authorities, have been working to implement effective measures that will address this major issue. I am sure this scheme will provide peace of mind and a sense of security to the residents of South Dublin against any threatened future flood events."

APPENDIX 2-2

Section 5 - Threshold Survey Letter

RIVER PODDLE FLOOD ALLEVIATION SCHEME – THRESHOLD SURVEY ADVANCE NOTICE

Dear Resident,

Following previous major flood events in your area, South Dublin County Council, working in partnership with Dublin City Council and the OPW are currently preparing a Flood Alleviation Scheme for the River Poddle Catchment Area which will consist in the placing of a wide range of flood defences along the route of the River Poddle.

As part of the preparation works required for the scheme, Murphy Surveys Ltd, Kilcullen, Co. Kildare have been engaged on our behalf to carry out a Property Threshold Survey on properties within the River Poddle catchment and we are seeking your assistance in completing this survey.

Threshold Surveying is a simple operation which forms part of flood protection requirements and will valuably assist in the design of the scheme by ensuring that your property is protected from a 1 in 100 year flood event similar to the flood event recorded in October 2011.

The survey consists of the recording of reduced levels and locations of door entry points, basements, air blocks etc which are then used to compare against flood water entry levels.

In the vast majority of cases a reduced level will only be required to be taken at the front door of a property but dependant on the building type, entry into a property may be required. This is where we are seeking your assistance by allowing access to your property where it may possess a Basement or a difference in level between the front and back doors.

All surveyors will carry identification badges and if you have any queries please contact

David Grant, Project Resident Engineer at 01-4149000 Ext 3241 or at dgrant@sdblincoco.ie.

To complete the survey we intend to survey your property on;

/ / 2019

Between am/pm and am/pm.

Thanking you in advance for your assistance,

David Grant,

Project Resident Engineer
